

Declares the code the compiler turns into an executable file

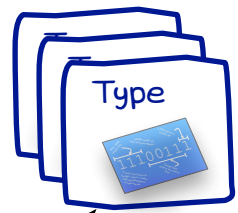

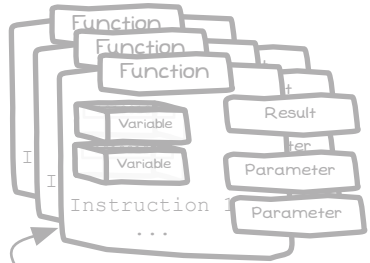

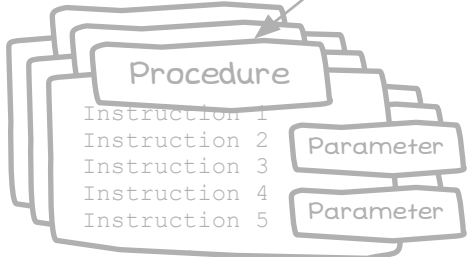

May use artefacts from Libraries

Has a name that is an

Program

Identifier

A Program may declare its own Procedures.

Instruction 1
Instruction 2
...

A Program may declare its own Functions.

A Program may declare its own Types.

The Program has an entry point that indicates where the program's instructions start